Teachers and Pupils

The Bath Village school opened on September 6, 1950 with both Miss White and Mrs. Onderdonk returning as teachers. The unusually large number of pupils (41) enrolled in the first four grades made it necessary for the fourth grade to be moved into Miss White's room. Even this change did not fully relieve the overcrowded condition in the primary room.

Mrs. Lemieux continues at the Carbee school, teaching all eight grades, with an enrollment in September of 17 pupils.

At Swiftwater, Mrs. Christie Kimball of North Woodstock, New Hampshire, replaced Mrs. Jones. Mrs. Kimball attended Johnson Normal, and, during the past three summers, has taken advanced courses at Keene and Plymouth Teachers Colleges. The Swiftwater school opened in September with an increased enrollment, there being 28 pupils in attendance.

Miss Edith Emery of Monroe, New Hampshire, replaced Mrs. Goodwin as music supervisor for the district. Miss Emery is a graduate of the University of N. H., class of '47, and had two years of teaching experience before coming to this district.

Buildings and Grounds

The setting up and equipping of a room with facilities for a hot lunch program at the Bath Village school constituted the major item of improvement for the year.

The funds used for this remodeling were appropriated under a special article in the warrant of the Bath

Union District and voted on at the district meeting of March, 1947. With this appropriation of $925.00, the Board has furnished a lunch room with an electric refrigerator, a two-oven gas range, a sink, and a gas hot water heater. Also, tableware, cooking utensils, and a serving counter are installed. The necessary plumbing, wiring and carpenter work is also included. The Board is to be complimented for its efficient planning and economic purchasing of this equipment.

The school lunch program is an educational one as well as one for the physical well-being of the child. It is gratifying to know that there is now such a program in each of the six school districts in this supervisory union.

General Information

The district was fortunate in having the services, in December, of a federal fluoride unit, sponsored by the U. S. Public Health Department. This unit was located at the Woodsville graded school building from November 13 to January 5 and to which 67 Bath pupils in grades I through VI came for treatment. Each child had a cleaning and four fluoride applications to its teeth free of charge.

Conclusion

May I take you for a moment, as a concluding thought for this report, to look outside our district borders and view four specific tasks which triumphant faith in education has imposed on our schools during the past 150 years, as expressed by H. Commager of Columbia University. The first and greatest task was to provide an enlightened citizenry in order that self-government might work. With independence the problem of self-government became urgent. "To be long-lived," as Benjamin Rush observed, "republics must invest in education"

Has our investment succeeded? None can doubt that it has. Americans have, in short, made democracy work. Through all their history they have elected some mediocre presidents but never a wicked or a dangerous one; they revealed in every crisis an ability to select able leaders. Only a people taught self government could record these achievements.

The second great task imposed upon education and on the schools —the creation of national unity— was equally difficult.

We created unity out of diversity, nationalism out of particularism. These were the contributions of poets and novelist, editors and naturalists, historians and jurists, orators and painters—and the medium through which they worked was the school. These men gave to Americans, old and new alike, a people's common language with which to voice a people's common heritage.

"God sifted a whole nation that He might send choice grain over into this wilderness; As for me give me liberty or give me death; If they mean to have a war, let it begin here; One if by land and two if by sea; These are the times that try men's souls; I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country."

And then there were the songs and the pictures, too. In school and lyceum, children came to learn and remember at least snatches of the "Concord Hymn" or "Old Ironsides" or the Midnight Ride of Paul Revere." The third task imposed on education, and particularly on the public schools, was that which we call Americanization. Each decade after 1840 saw from two to eight million immigrants pour into America.

There is a fourth and final service that the schools have rendered the cause of American democracy. This most heterogeneous of modern societies has ever seemed the most easy prey to forces of riotous privilege and ruinous division: These forces have not preveiled; they have been routed, above all, in the school-rooms and on the playgrounds of America. In the classroom the nation's children have lived and learned equality. On the playground and athletic field the same code has ruled. Who can seriously doubt that the cause of democracy is served when it is a Murphy, a Schwartz, a Groglio or a Levitsky that the cheering stands applaud.

If, through the 19th and well into the 20th Century, American schools performed such magnificent service the question remains: do they still serve the nation well?

In a day of specialization schools are called on more and more to prepare not so much for life, citizenship or democracy as for particular tasks and competences.

Schools reflect the society they serve. Many of the failures we ascribe to contemporary education are in fact failures of our society as a whole.

For a century and a half American schools have served and strengthened the commonwealth. If society clearly defines the new duties it wishes our schools to fulfill and if it steadfastly supports them not only with money but also with faith, they will surely justify that faith in the future as they have in the past.

The acknowledgement of my appreciation to the teachers; to the school board, collectively and individually, as well as to the citizens of the district, for their continued cooperation and support is hereby gratefully expressed.
